

The Hanger Project

Synopsis

The Hanger Project: (14) of the Nations brightest Airline, Aero Space and Private Pilot hopefuls, Vying for recognition of their talents, as they compete for the shows Top Honors. This high flying international series is laden with egos and attitudes befitting the men and women of these fields.

Synopsis: “The Hanger Project” a reality show / talent search, for the aero space, commercial airline and private pilot industries. The show consists of (14) contestants. (2) Teams (7) per team, with (14) alternates. Each week the losing team must remove the weakest link and replace him/her with one of the alternates. “The Hanger Project”, contestants receive projects from the commercial space, airline, as well as the private sector, anything from revamping an airport, to managing a commercial space flight company, some projects will consist of new ideas, or products related to these industries. The Hanger Project team’s, strive to make the projects presented to them better, or conceive of ways to promote them or create publicity campaigns for their projects or products. Each team has a crew chief, ultimately the winning crew along with the crew chief receives prizes and possible job offers for their win, after the season finale, the Crew Chief receiving the shows top honors.

The show has one judge (Commander), 2 overseers (Captains) and each week a new guest panelist. The Judge (The top decision maker) takes information given him/her from the 2 over seers, and the guest panelist, it is his/her decision which of the crew members should be replaced. It is the crew’s decision who to replace with one, out of the 14 alternates; it is also the crew’s decision to appoint the Chief who may also be replaced at anytime during the season by the crew.

The ultimate goal is to wind up with a winning crew lead by the chief, creativeness, team work and leadership being the theme for the show.

“Creator”
Russell Michael
2009